

8th Grade Newsletter

October 13, 2017

We made it through the first quarter of the year. I think that everyone is finally into the swing of things. Basketball has started for many of our students, so make sure that everyone is using good time management skills. Next week is parent- teacher conferences. Your time was sent home with your child today. If this time is not convenient for you, please contact me and we can reschedule. The trash bag sales that went home this week is a fundraiser for the 8th grade trips. Please help raise money by selling those.
